SOURCES
Herewith, I would like to congratulate involved Armenian organizations for joining the Pan-European EURAXESS initiative which has its main objective to support researchers’ mobility and better career development, enhancing scientific collaboration. I believe these are objectives towards internationalization of science and closer integration of Armenian research community into European Research Area which is a priority stated in policy documents. In particular, this is well in line with adopted in 2019 Roadmap and Action Plan on integration of Armenian Research and Development to European Research Area which was based on the “Strategy of development of Research and Innovation in Armenia 2017-2020” and, also inspired by 20 Deliverables for 2020 outlined by the European Commission for Eastern Partnership Countries.

I would like to note that association of Armenia to Horizon 2020 in 2016, and political decision on association to the next European Programme Horizon Europe starting in 2021, were also in line with this logic and have been important steps in this direction.

Armenia joined the EURAXESS network in September 2019, after which the Armenian EURAXESS portal was put into operation and a network of EURAXESS Contact Points was established. Network development was funded by the European Commission through the Horizon 2020 EURAXESS-AM project coordinated by the National Academy of Sciences of Armenia.

One of deliverables of this project is the Armenian Mobility Guide for incoming researchers which, together with the Armenian EURAXESS portal (https://www.euraxess.am), are aimed to serve as a single source of information for all researchers who want to come to Armenia.

Welcome to Armenia!

GEOGRAPHY

Armenia is situated at a cultural, historical, and religious intersection and located at the crossroads between Europe and Asia, in the southern Transcaucasia. The country spans 29,743 square kilometers of mountainous terrain centered on the Ararat Valley, the heart of the Armenian nation since biblical times. Ancient geographers called the Armenian Highlands the "Island of Mountains" or the "Rooftop of Asia Minor." Located in the South Caucasus, Armenia is bordered by Georgia from the north, Iran from the south, Azerbaijan from the north-east and the south-west and Turkey from the west.

The capital of Armenia is Yerevan. The Republic of Armenia consists of 10 administrative regions (Marzes): Aragatsotn region, Ararat region, Armavir region, Gegharkunik region, Kotayk region, Lori region, Shirak region, Syunik region, Vayots Dzor region, Tavush region. Yerevan is a separate administrative region. The biggest cities of Armenia are Yerevan, Gyumri, Vanadzor, Kapan, Armavir, Gavar, Ejmiatsin, Ijevann and Hrazdan.

HISTORY

Armenia has been populated since prehistoric times, and has been proposed as the site of the Biblical Garden of Eden. Armenia lies in the highlands surrounding the Biblical mountains of Ararat, upon which Noah’s Ark came to rest after the flood. Because Armenia is strategically located between Europe and Asia, it has been part of many of the great empires throughout the history of the world. These include the Greeks, Romans, Assyrians, Arabs, Persians, the Ottoman Empire, and the Turkish Empire. In 800 BC the area that is now Armenia became part of the Kingdom of Urartu, which flourished until 600 BC. At this time the Kingdom of Armenia was established under the Orontid Dynasty. Between 95 and 66 BC Tigran the Great ruled the Kingdom of Armenia. During this time Armenia reached the peak of its power becoming a great and powerful nation. Modern Armenia comprises only a small portion of ancient Armenia, one of the world’s oldest centres of civilization. At its height, Armenia extended from the south-central Black Sea coast to the Caspian Sea and from the Mediterranean Sea to Lake Urmia in present-day Iran.

After being ruled by many different empires and nations, Armenia became an independent state between 1918 and 1920. However, in late 1920, the Soviet Union invaded. In 1922 Armenia was made part of Soviet Socialist Republic. With the fall of the Soviet Union, Armenia was once again able to declare its independence becoming an independent country on September 21, 1991.
POLITICAL SYSTEM

The political system of Armenia is based on multiparty parliamentary democracy. Armenia has the President, National Assembly and the Government. The president is the head of state and the Prime Minister is the head of Government. The Prime Minister is appointed by the President of Armenia upon the vote of the National Assembly. Executive power is exercised by the President and the Government. Legislative power is vested in both the Government and Parliament.

Independent of three traditional branches are the following independent agencies, each with separate powers and responsibilities: The Constitutional Court of Armenia, the Central Electoral Commission of Armenia, the Human Rights Defender of Armenia, the Central Bank of Armenia, the General Prosecutor’s Office and the Audit Chamber of Armenia.

POPULATION, LANGUAGE, AND RELIGION

Armenia is small country with population a bit less than 3 mil. 98.1% of the population are Armenians, whereas ethnic minorities from less than 3% of the population (Russians, Yezidis, Kurds, Assyrians, Greeks, Ukrainians, Molokans, Jews and others).

The official language of the Republic of Armenia is Armenian. Historically being spoken throughout the Armenian Highlands, today, Armenian is widely spoken throughout the Armenian Diaspora. Armenian is written in its writing system, the Armenian alphabet, introduced in 405 AD by Mesrop Mashtots. Besides Armenian, Russian is also widely used, and many can communicate in English, too.

In 301 AD, Armenia became the first country to adopt Christianity as an official state religion. The church it established still exists and is not part of either the Roman Catholic or the Eastern Orthodox churches. The Armenian Apostolic Church is the national church of the Armenian people. Part of Oriental Orthodoxy, it is one of the most ancient Christian institutions.
It is sometimes referred to as the Armenian Orthodox Church or the Armenian Gregorian Church. The term Gregorian Church is not preferred by the church itself, as it views the Apostles Bartholomew and Thaddeus as its founders, and St. Gregory the Illuminator as merely the first official governor of the church. It is also known simply as the Armenian Church.

The majority of the Armenians living in Armenia belong to the Armenian Apostolic Orthodox church. The head of the church is the Catholicos (Patriarch) of all Armenians, who resides in Holy Ejmiatsin.

CLIMATE

Armenia has a dry tropical climate. Clear sunny days are mostly dominant in a year. The summers are hot here, the temperature fluctuates between +22°C to +36°C. The best time to visit Armenia for tourism is spring or autumn.

SCIENCE IN ARMENIA
In Armenia RTD was one of the core sectors of economy before the collapse of the USSR. The independent Armenia inherited quite ramified and developed network of research and education institutions distributed among Academic, university and branch/enterprise sectors. Armenia was specialized in several fields of sciences and technology, including physics and astrophysics, computer sciences and information technologies, biotechnology, chemistry and others.

Integration into international scientific and technological networks is one of the priorities of Armenia stated in the Law on Scientific and Technological Activity. The Strategy on Development of Science 2011-2020 also sets ambitious targets for international scientific cooperation – including the objective of developing a knowledge-based economy by 2020, be competitive within European Research Area in terms of fundamental and applied research, and be a prime location for scientific specialization within ERA. It also sets objectives for the general development of international RTD cooperation, setting up joint cooperation programmes, establishing joint laboratories and research centres, and attracting foreign researchers to collaborate with Armenian colleagues.

New prospects for closer EU-Armenia cooperation were opened after inclusion of Armenia in the European New Neighbourhood Policy (ENP) Initiative and further development of the ENP Action Plan aiming at contributing to sustainable economic development of the country. The ENP Action Plan includes the article on measures in the field of S&T incorporating points towards assisting in development of adequate S&T and Innovation policy system reformation activities and creation of independent peer-review structure for competitive selection of RTD projects in Armenia. It also contains an article stating the need for closer integration of Armenia into European Research Area through more active promotion of participation of Armenian research organizations in EU’s Framework Programmes.

Inclusion of Armenia in the EU’s Eastern Partnership added a new multilateral framework for EU-Armenia relations in various fields of science and technology. Logical development towards addressing S&T internationalization objectives was also association of Armenia to EU’s Horizon 2020 programme in 2016, and political decision to be associated to the next seven-year European Programme Horizon Europe starting in 2021.
Science Committee of the Ministry of Education, Science, Culture and Sport RA (SC MESA) is responsible for development and implementation of S&T policies and management of RTD programmes. SC MESA is the main state organization providing R&D funding through international and state calls for proposals.

SC MESA maintains researchers’ exchange and joint research projects programmes with CNRS (France), BMBF (Germany), National Research Council (Italy), Russian Foundation for Basic Research, State Committee on Science and Technology of the Republic of Belarus which provides a framework for short-term exchange of researchers.

PRIVATE R&D FUNDING ORGANIZATIONS

Besides SC MESA, there are a number of non-state organizations providing funds for research, technological and entrepreneurial activities.

STUDYING AND WORKING IN ARMENIA
Recognition of Diplomas

Academic recognition is mainly sought with the purpose of continuing the education. However, it is proved that some applicants prefer to get academic recognition document before seeking a job in case of the professions not requiring official recognition (non-regulated professions). Such recognition, for professional purpose, helps contractor to understand the compatibility of the given foreign qualification with the local similar qualification.

For receiving academic recognition you may apply to the National Information Centre for Academic Recognition and Mobility and submit obtained official document to the higher educational institution where you prefer to continue your education. The final recognition is conducted by the HEI where the applicant wants to continue his/her education. The HEI, in adopting the decision, should take into account the advice of NICARM which is the Armenian representative of the international ENIC/NARIC net. NICARM evaluates the foreign qualification and prepares a document which serves as a letter of guarantee for HEI as well as it may be presented to the future contractor in case non-regulated professions.

If you are abroad, you should apply to the HEI which you have chosen for your further education for the academic recognition of your qualification. If you need some information or assistance, you may apply to the National Information Centers for Academic Recognition – ENIC/NARIC network member organization. In the majority of the countries, just like in Armenia, the final decision on the foreign recognition is adopted by a HEI where the applicant should continue the education.

Among these Institutions the most important players in R&D sector are Yerevan State University, Yerevan State Medical University, Armenian National Agrarian University, and Alikhanyan National Science Laboratory at Yerevan Physics Institute.

Foreign students represent around 3% of the total, which shows still low level of internationalization of the Armenian higher education system. Internationalization as strategic orientation is present to much extent only in medical education which receives around 500-600 students annually from abroad.

Citizenship

Any person 18 years or older can apply for Armenian citizenship. Terms of acquiring or terminating Armenian citizenship are settled upon the Law of the Republic of Armenia on "Citizenship of the Republic of Armenia" and Governmental Decision N 1390-N (23 November, 2007).

General requirements are: legal residence in Armenia for the last 3 years, good knowledge of Armenian, acquaintance with the Constitution of Armenia.

Procedure of acquiring Armenian citizenship is simplified for ethnic Armenians, for spouses of Armenian citizens, for children of former Armenian citizens (must apply within 3 years after reaching adulthood – 18 years) and for persons who have terminated Armenian citizenship after the year of 1995. In these cases the requirements of legal residence and knowledge of Armenian do not apply.
Armenian citizenship can be awarded without any requirement to persons who have provided exceptional service to the Republic of Armenia. Citizenship of Armenia is granted upon a decree of the President of the Republic of Armenia.

- For detailed information about the citizenship process please visit here.

Applying for Armenian citizenship If your spouse (wife/husband) has Armenian citizenship you can apply for Armenian citizenship when:

after two years of being in a registered marriage. Besides, you will have to satisfy one of the following criteria:

- You have a common child with your spouse and your child is an Armenian citizen, or
- You have resided in Armenia for at least 365 days over the last two years.
- If your marriage was registered in a foreign country the marriage certificate will have to be legalized (Apostille or consular legalization) and translated into the Armenian language.

For more information please visit the website of the Ministry of Justice of the Republic of Armenia.
As a general rule, a holder of an Armenian visa is not entitled to work in Armenia unless he/she also holds a work permit. Highly skilled foreign specialists, business owners, executives and certain other categories of workers are exempt from work permit requirements.

Work Permit
The transfer of staff (skilled or non-qualified) is subject to obtaining a work permit and, where necessary, a temporary residence permit. In Armenia, for work permit requirements, no distinction is made between intra-company transfers, local hires or subcontracting employment. The work permit has to be applied for on behalf of the legal employer and is issued for the duration of the employment contract. The law requires the employer to search for Armenian citizens to do the job.

Employees that are employed by a foreign company (remain on the payroll of the foreign entity) are generally exempt from work permit requirements.

Unless a foreign individual is exempted from work permit requirements, the employer must first obtain a work permit by applying to the Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs (MLSA). The migrant will normally then apply for a temporary residence permit in order to be granted the permission to live and work in Armenia.

Exemptions
Work permit requirements do not apply to the following categories of foreigners:

- Holders of permanent or special residency permits;
- Holders of temporary residency permits if such permit is issued on the basis of being a family member of another holder of permanent (special, temporary) residency permit;
- Founders, directors and representatives of commercial organizations with foreign investment;
- Foreigners employed in representative offices of foreign companies;
- Foreign specialists employed to install or repair machinery and other equipment purchased from foreign companies or to train local staff to operate such machinery or equipment;
Highly qualified foreign specialists in areas of natural sciences, information technologies (1. technician, operation and technical maintenance of computing equipment and computer systems; 2. technician, operation of computing machines, complexes, systems and networks; 3. web designer), agriculture (1. agriculture specialist; 2. farmer; 3. technician-cultivator), as well as foreigners with higher education in 1. information and communication technologies; 2. management and administration; 3. food technology; 4. finances;
- Family members of diplomatic staff;
- Foreigners working in border areas;
- Short-term workers in areas of sports and culture;
- Lecturers invited to lecture in Armenian educational institutions;
- Accredited representatives of foreign media organizations;
- Refugees and foreigners granted asylum;
- Students working during vacations within exchange programs;
- Foreigners arriving to Armenia on the basis of international agreements;
- Foreigners exempted from work permit requirements by virtue of international agreements.

A business visitor cannot undertake work activities while in Armenia, unless these activities are exempted from work permit requirements. Permitted activities during a business trip include meetings, interviews, discussions, negotiations, exploring business opportunities, attending conferences, conducting site visits, taking orders or purchasing goods or services. Payment by an Armenian entity of salary or other remuneration would be evidence of work.

Employers which already employed foreign labour at the time the work permit regulations came into effect do not have to apply for work permits until the current employment agreements expire. However, they must present copies of such employment agreements to the MLSA within 60 days. Any new hiring will require a work permit.

   b. excise tax;
   c. profit tax;
   d. income tax;
   e. environmental tax;

Municipal taxes:
   a. Property Tax;
   b. Land Tax.

- They are a RA resident, i.e. they resided in the Republic of Armenia for a total of 183 or more days at any stage of the 12-month period which starts and ends during the fiscal year, or they have the center of vital interests located in the Republic of Armenia, or if they are a state servant of the Republic of Armenia, work temporarily away from the territory of the Republic of Armenia and received taxable income in the RA territory or outside its borders.
- They are non-resident and received taxable income from Armenian sources.

2. VAT
Any person (individual entrepreneur, legal entity etc.), who carries out economic activity and whose taxable turnover of the last calendar year realized transactions is more than 58.35 million AMD (VAT threshold) is considered as a VAT payer.
The following transactions are subject to the VAT taxation:

- goods supply
- service provisions
- goods importation

There are two VAT rates:
20% (If the tax is included in the goods and services cost, the VAT shall be determined by the rate 16.67 percent of the total price of the goods and services).
0%, that is zero rate (this rate is usually used for the exportation of goods and services, as well as for the goods and the services which are bought in Armenia for the official use of diplomatic representations and equalized institutions).

VAT exemption
Scientific and research works are in the list of the VAT exemption cases.
Also any EU funded project implemented by Armenian beneficiary will be exempt from VAT following a special procedure with the Ministry of Economy of RA.
More detailed info can be found at Tax service of RA.

Salaries
Employee’s contributions:
Pension fund - 2,5% (persons that are born before 1974 do not make this contribution)

- From January 1, 2022 -21%

Social Package
The state organizations provide Social Package to their employees. The social package is a program aimed at ensuring the health, education, recreation and other issues of employees and / or their immediate family members. Unfortunately foreign workers cannot benefit from this program, but many of the non-state organization provide health insurance and other benefits to their employees. Please check out this information with your future employer.
Health Insurance

Health insurance plays a vital role in every person’s life by offering many benefits when adopting the right insurance policy. Many people have international insurance which may be used overseas. Before visiting Armenia, it is necessary to have travel insurance, which will cover the main medical expenses during your stay in Armenia. In case of emergency, you can be assisted in any medical centers in Armenia and then be remunerated by your insurance company. Expatriates living in Yerevan will need to have medical insurance, as it is mandatory for all residents. It is also recommended for expats to add or find Medical Evacuation Coverage (MEDEVAC), because whilst most hospitals provide adequate care, it may be necessary to take you out of the country for treatment and the cost of this can be high. The healthcare system in Yerevan provides national care hospitals, regional hospitals, and primary healthcare providers. In the city, there are numerous hospitals and medical centers, including the internationally recognized ones. For more details about the law on insurance in Armenia please visit here.
